EIC VALUE FUND

Data as of June 30, 2020

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

All-Cap Value equity fund that seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation.

FUND STRATEGY

With an investment approach that dates back to 1986, EIC implements a value discipline to investing and believes the key to long-term investment success is avoiding serious losses. EIC looks for high-quality companies selling below their value as an ongoing business. This has led to lower volatility versus the broader market. To that end, we use a highly disciplined investment process that helps us to identify and avoid value traps. Our culture of independent thinking is part of the approach that provides the flexibility to invest where value leads, regardless of capitalization size.

Definition of Terms: Average Market Capitalization is the geometric mean of the market capitalization for all of the stocks in the portfolio. Price/Earnings Ratio is the ratio for valuing a company that measures its current share price relative to its per-share earnings for the past 12 months. Beta is a measure of the volatility, or systematic risk, of a portfolio in comparison to the benchmark. Standard Deviation is a measure of the dispersion of a set of data from its mean. The wider the performance range, the higher the deviation.

EIC Equity Holdings by Capitalization Size

This chart illustrates EIC's primary adherence to a value discipline and how this allows for changing capitalization exposure over time. The values shown reflect the percentage of small-, mid-, and large-capitalization stocks in a representative All-Cap Value portfolio since inception in 1986. EIC uses the capitalization classifications defined by the Russell Corporation and reconstituted annually in May. EIC Value Fund capitalization exposure may vary from that of the representative portfolio. Market capitalization percentages may not equal 100% due to rounding conventions.

Performance for periods longer than one year is annualized. Performance data quoted represents past performance; past performance does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Short term performance, in particular, is not a good indication of the fund's future performance, and an investment should not be made based solely on returns. Current performance of the fund may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Performance data current to the most recent month end may be obtained by calling 1-877-342-0111.

The Adviser has contractually agreed to waive and/or reimburse certain fees and expenses until August 31, 2020. Furthermore, the Adviser may be reimbursed under certain limitations fees and expenses within a three-year period that were waived or reimbursed. This is reflected in the net expense ratio. All investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the Fund carefully before investing. Risk Considerations: All mutual fund investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. A value-oriented investment approach is subject to the risk that a security believed to be undervalued does not appreciate in value as anticipated. There can be no guarantee that the EIC Value Fund's investment strategy will be successful
